

What's New at LEAPPAhead.com

September 2018

University students learn leadership skills from Jim McGraw

The legacies of Ewing Kauffman and other great business leaders are alive and well in a new generation thanks to the tireless efforts of Jim McGraw and his FREE program on Leadership, Empathy & the Power of Persuasion.

For nearly 10 years, Jim has traveled at his own expense to area Business Schools where he shares the importance of treating others like you'd like to be treated, sharing the results with those that produce them, and sharing your success with others. His message is always well received: Listen to the marketplace. Develop products that have a high demand. Be a macro-leader, not a micro-manager. Have GRIT, the greatest predictor of entrepreneurial success. BE KIND! "A kind word has never broken a tooth."

"These skills and values are as relevant today as they were years ago," Jim says.

Thousands of students have heard Jim's programs at Park University, Rockhurst University, Pittsburg State University, Benedictine College, William Jewell College, Johnson County Community College, KU, K-State and UMKC.

"These young people are top notch," Jim says.
"The future of our nation is in good hands."

www.LEAPPAhead.com -- 816.215.5237

ABOVE: Jim has spoken at Pittsburg State over a dozen times in the last five years. BELOW: Benedictine College recently hosted Jim for the first time. He looks forward to returning next year.

THOUGHT FOR TODAY

May you always have love to share, cash to spare and friends who care.